

HOLISTIC CANVAS

Passionate interior design studio Home Interior distinguishes itself by creating breathtaking spaces that tell a story. Their mission includes developing holistic interior design concepts, which are then executed with dedication and precision. What characterises them is the art of imperfection that accompanies striving for perfection, giving each space a unique character, always tailored to their clients' needs.

Home Interior co-founder Jeanette Walther found her inspiration for design early in life. Her grandmother, a master of interior changing, left an indelible impression on young Jeanette. For her, it was normal for a home to be infused with aesthetics. This early exposure signalled the beginning of her love of design. It became a lifestyle, not just a profession. This deep-rooted passion for design led to the creation of her own interior design studio, with a clear mission: to create a space where her clients could feel completely at home.
